

Energy & Mineral Law Foundation
28th Mineral Law Conference, October 16-17, 2003
Lexington, Kentucky
Professional and CLE Credits

Listed below are the professional education credits awarded for the 28th Mineral Law Conference. In addition to the states listed below, Arizona, California, New Mexico, Nevada, and New York will presumptively award credits when any mandatory CLE state awards credit.

AAPL 11.75 RLP credits, which includes 2.75 CPL/ESA credit and 1.0 ethics credits

Alabama	11.30 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Colorado:	14.0 credits which includes 1.20 ethics credits
Georgia:	11.30 General hours and 1.0 ethics credits
Indiana:	11.30 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Kentucky:	10.75 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Missouri:	12.30 credits which includes 1.20 ethics credits
North Carolina:	11.25 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Ohio:	11.25 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Pennsylvania:	10.50 general credits and 1.0 ethics credits
South Carolina:	11.25 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Tennessee:	10.25 general credits and 1.0 ethics credits
Texas:	11.25 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Virginia:	11.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
West Virginia:	13.50 credits which includes 1.20 ethics credits

If your state is not among those listed and you need CLE credits, please reply to this email and we will file for CLE credits or assist you in personally filing for CLE credits.