J. Thomas Lane
Bowles Rice McDavid Graff & Love LLP

Tom Lane is a partner in the Bowles Rice Charleston office. He practices primarily in the areas of natural resources, coal, oil and gas, commercial real estate, zoning and land development. This practice ranges from complex transactions of mineral property and companies to complex litigation of natural resource issues. He also engages in lobbying and government relations, particularly on issues affecting the mineral industry.

As the former Robert T. Donley Adjunct Professor of Law at the West Virginia University College of Law, Tom taught a course in Coal, Oil and Gas Law (1986-2005). He compiled a teaching text on Coal, Oil and Gas and has published numerous articles, including "Rights-of-Way and Easements in Mineral Development;" "Maintaining Oil and Gas Leases in Distressed Markets;" "West Virginia Ad Valorem Property Taxes;" "Fire in the Hole to Longwall Shears, Old Law Applied to New Technology;" and "Accounting for Cotenants, Trustees, Lessees, Trespassers and the Like."

Tom is President of the Charleston City Council where he has been an elected member since 1987. He serves on the key committees of Council, is involved in various special projects from homeless shelters to public safety and has organized and oversees task forces to carry out a City plan on comprehensive improvements. Tom is active in a variety of church, civic and charitable endeavors.

Tom is trustee and past president of the Energy & Mineral Law Foundation and past president and chairman of the Executive Council of The West Virginia Bar Association. He is also the chairman of the Charleston Land Trust.

An owner of a land development company, Tom is involved in land development, construction and rental. His favorite pastime is landscaping and gardening, and he would rather work on his tractor than watch football. Time on the tractor competes, however, with tennis. Tom is an avid player with a 4.0 NTRP rating. He competes in many local and regional tournaments. In his spare time, Tom likes to work on cars and has on occasion restored an old Porsche or two. As a private pilot, Tom likes to travel by plane.

Tom received his bachelor of arts degree in 1968 from Washington & Jefferson College and his law degree in 1973 from West Virginia University. He served in the United States Army (1969-1971), and was a Law Clerk to the Honorable John A. Field Jr., United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit (1974-1975). Tom is a member of the Fourth Circuit Judicial Conference.

Since 1989, Tom has been listed in "The Best Lawyers in America" by Woodward/White, Inc.; he has an AV rating with Martindale-Hubbell; and he is listed in Chambers USA "America's Leading Business Lawyers." In 2006, Tom was awarded the annual McClaugherty Award by the Energy & Mineral Law Foundation for distinguished service to the natural resource profession. In 2009 Tom was recognized by West Virginia Super Lawyers as one of "West Virginia Top 10 Super Lawyers" and recently he was selected as The Best Lawyers in America's 2010 Real Estate Lawyer of the Year for Charleston, West Virginia.
