

Energy & Mineral Law Foundation
Winter Workshops on Energy Law, January 29-31, 2004
Fort Lauderdale, Florida
Professional and CLE Credits

Listed below are the professional education credits awarded for the 2004 Winter Workshops. In addition to the states listed below, Arizona, California, New Mexico, Nevada, and New York will presumptively award credits when any mandatory CLE state awards credit.

AAPL 14.0 RLP continuing education credits, 14.0 CPL credits which includes 3.5 CPL/ESA credit and 1.0 ethics credits

Alabama	14.0 Credits hours which includes 0 ethics credits
Colorado:	17.0 0credits which includes 1.20 ethics credits
Georgia:	13.00 General hours and 1.0 ethics credits
Indiana:	14.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Kentucky	14.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Missouri:	16.5 credits which includes 1.2 ethics credits
North Carolina	13.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Ohio	13.75 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Pennsylvania	13.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
South Carolina:	14.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Tennessee:	13.0 General credits and 1. 0 ethics credits
Texas	13.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
Virginia State Bar	14.0 credits which includes 1.0 ethics credits
West Virginia	16.80 credits which includes 1.20 ethics credits

If your state is not among those listed and you need CLE credits, please reply to this email and we will file for CLE credits or assist you in personally filing for CLE credits.